

DATING IN BARCELONA 2

CITES BARCELONA 2

BY PAU FREIXAS

In Citas: Dating in Barcelona, the characters meet face to face after having met online. They are in search of love, sex or simply someone who would put some distance between them and their loneliness. The series explores various encounters between strangers; stories about what happens when technology disappears and the only thing remaining are two people with their own needs and contradictions. Citas: Dating in Barcelona delves into first dates, when fears, secrets and expectations come into play. The series offers an elegant, natural and entertaining look at current relationships, at their diversity and complexity.
