

STRAWBERRIES

LA MÁS DULCE

BY LAÏLA MARRAKCHI

Hasna leaves her native Morocco to spend a season in southern Spain picking strawberries. With the salary promised by the owners of the greenhouse, she will be able to provide a better life for her family when she returns. But faced with mistreatment and harassment, she and other workers, with the help of a lawyer, speak out against the abuse they have experienced, at the risk of losing everything.
