

THE DIKE

EL DIC

BY ALBA SOTORRA

Juna lives surrounded by nature and cares for a kingfisher's nest in the Ebro Delta. Everything changes when she learns about climate change at school. Concerned for the Delta and the nest, she builds a dyke with the help of local animals. The next day, with her mum, she writes a letter and leaves it in the nest. The kingfisher delivers it to the undecided politician, who, inspired by Juna and other children, votes in favour of the environment. At school, the kingfisher returns with its chicks, and Juna smiles with satisfaction. After school, families arrive on bicycles. With the kingfisher flying overhead, the story reminds us that every action counts for a sustainable future.
