

WE DIE

BY REBECA SÁNCHEZ LÓPEZ

We all die, that is the only truth that makes us equal. How we conceive it is what can make us different. We Die is a reflection on life, death and the magic that surrounds the enigma. A journey into the mortuary culture of three minorities in India, Indonesia and Mexico in contrast to western ideas. Through the stories of our protagonists we discover the collective imagination that feeds their traditions and beliefs about death and how these are reflected in their way of living and sharing their life.
