THE UNFIXING

BY NICOLE BETANCOURT

A lyrical tapestry of life and landscape, THE UNFIXING reveals one mother's path from illness to healing and from climate despair to environmental awakening. As the climate crisis escalates, a debilitating illness threatens the filmmaker's life, then her daughter's life, taking the family to breaking point. Turning the camera on herself and the exquisite patterns in nature around her, Nicole meditates on how destruction, grief, transformation and ultimately hope, ripple outward, echoing across generations and landscapes. Adrift yet lucid, these waking visions chart a course not only to personal healing, but also a new narrative from which to see the world.
