

FESTINA LENTE

BY CARLOS VILLAFAINA

David, a thirty-two-year-old music teacher, is forced to take care of his twin brother, Amador, who has cerebral palsy, when their mother passes away. After years of a distant relationship, David will have to choose between his independence and his brother's dependence. The question of who will have guardianship of Amador remains unresolved. Two strangers will be forced to live together. David and Amador will have to put aside their differences, reconcile with the past that has kept them apart, and start seeing each other for what they truly are: two brothers capable of taking care of each other.
